Reports from about half of the teams engaged in the drive for $2,500, the quota set for the district of which Willimantic is headquarters, brought the total Red Cross subscriptions to $1,029.15 Thursday night. Chairman M. E. Sullivan issued orders Thursday to team captains to have their final reports sent in by Wednesday, Dec. 22d, at which time the drive closes.
Although the reports received thus far are less than half of the quota, it is stated that final reports will bring the total near the $2,500 mark set at the beginning of the drive. Team reports received to Thursday follow:

Up to Thursday night 41 persons had applied for work at the temporary employment office at the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Main street. Work for whole or part time has been secured for 17 of those who have applied. William E. Webber, who was in charge of the office Thursday, stated that as fast as places are offered those who have applied will be notified. The number of persons applying for work during the past few days has not increased greatly and it seems evident that many persons are looking for employment themselves. Mr.
Webber and the men appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, however, stand ready to supply these people with work when work can be secured. Many of those who have applied have secured employment for full weeks. While others are working part time on their own jobs and filling in the remaining days in places secured through the employment bureau.
Feeling having work to be done are being notified to the office and competent workmen and women will be sent out as promptly as possible.

Secretary Frank R. Cahlan of the local Y. M. C. A. has just received notice that under the new allotment of the general scholastic fund of the International Y. M. C. A. there is available for ex-service men of Windham county the sum of $600.56, which can be used for college training or correspondence school training for ex-service men. Toland county, he stated, has been allotted the sum of $268.58 for this same work. Any ex-service man desiring a scholarship in any college or correspondence school, upon applying to Mr. Cahlan, can obtain these scholarships. At present the local Y. M.
C. A. has awarded 25 scholarships, totaling $2,000, to residents of these two counties.

be shown this Friday evening during the social hour. The siles will also be shown Saturday evening for the benefit of Polish residents of the city at the Polish club rooms on lower Main street.

The local police have received notice that the license of Wilfred J. Blanchette of Jackson street has been suspended by the commissioner of motor vehicles. Blanchetette figured in an accident in South Windham last summer and some weeks afterwards smashed into a house on lower Main street. The accident, the first of which was said to be due to carelessness on Blanchette's part, are the cause of the loss of his license. Blanchette has been engaged in the lutejny business in this city for several years.

Louis French of Willimantic recovered his bicycle Thursday morning after it had been missing for about two weeks.
French left the wheel at his home on Columbia avenue and upon his return found it missing. Thursday morning while walking on Main street he saw a young man riding a bicycle similar to the one he had lost. He followed the boy and when the latter went into a store French looked the bicycle over carefully. When the boy came out of the store French claimed the wheel, and the boy said it was one he had borrowed from a boy named Kantrovich of Columbia. The police went to the Kantrovich home but found no one there. They left word for were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his home in South Coventry. Rev.

Harry S. McCready, pastor of the local Congregational church, officiated. Burial was in the Nathan Hale cemetery, South Coventry, where Rev. Mr. McCready read a committal service at the grave. The arrangements were in charge of Jay M.
Shepard.

Louis Jackson, colored, was charged with intoxication at the Thursday session of the police court and pleaded guilty to the charge. Jackson stated that he came to this city Tuesday to look for a man but was unable to find him. He said he had been employed at a sawmill not far from this city. Jackson has been arrested several times on charges of intoxication and was warned that another charge of this kind would send him to jail. He was fined $10 and costs, amounting to $17.15, which his employer paid.

Miss Pauline V. Smith of this city was a speaker at the convention for workers in girls' organizations recently held in New York city. Her subject was Housing Conditions for Girls in New York City.

Frank Snyder, 27, was given a hearing Thursday afternoon before Justice of the Peace George A. Allen of Mansfield and was bound over to the superior court under bonds of $2,000. He was unable to furnish the necessary money and was taken to Tolland county jail to await trial. Snyder was charged on three counts with obtaining money under false pretenses from Charles J. Farwell of Hanks Hill, in the town of Mansfield, who is about 40 years old, and owns an interest in the Hanks silk mill.

The story of the astounding goes back about a year to the time when Snyder, it is claimed, went to New York with $25 of Farwell's money, with which he was to purchase a wig. Snyder returned with the story that he was unable to get the wig but that he got into an altercation with the man he was to purchase a wig from, in which the seller was somewhat beaten up. Snyder, it is said, claimed to have spent the $25 to get himself out of the scrape. Last September Snyder went to Farwell and told him that the man he had fought was bringing suit against him and Farwell, as his employer would be held liable. Three hundred dollars was asked of Farwell to smooth matters out, and Farwell gave Snyder this amount. On Tuesday night of this Snyder, it is claimed, accompanied by an unknown person who showed a detective's badge, went to Farwell and demanded $562 more, which they said would close up the New York episode. The other man displayed a revolver to aid in intimidating Farwell. Farwell fell for the ploy and gave them $250 in cash and offered to write a check for the balance, but this was refused, and this led to Synder's disappearance.

They told Farwell they must get the money by Wednesday morning, and Farwell said he would try to borrow this amount. He went to a neighbor and tried to get the money and the person, knowing Farwell's alleged eccentricities, asked him why he needed the money, and the story of the alleged blackmail was told.
Farwell and the friend then came to Willimantic and contacted Attorney William A. King, town counsel for Mansfield, but as Attorney King was busy he retained Attorney Patrick J. Danahy in the case.
A warrant was made out for Farwell's arrest and he was taken before Justice of the Peace George A. Allen and was held under bonds of $5,000, which he could not furnish, and was then taken to jail to await hearing Thursday.

Snyder had a story about a detective coming to his house Tuesday and asking where Farwell lived. He claimed the detective had come to his home about the New York case about the wig. He has a wife and two children and lives just over the city line on the road to Mansfield. The receipt given Farwell Tuesday night by Snyder and his companion read as follows: Received of John J. Jones the sum of $250 on account. Balance, $382, to be paid Dec. 15, 1920. Signed, J. J. O'Mally.

Farwell, it is stated, has been subjected to swindles on other occasions by those who took advantage of him. He is said to be known in Mansfield to be a hard worker and of good character, but easy to impose upon.

Two Willimantic officers assisting in the arrest were County Detective William A. Jackson and Sheriff Elmer M. Young.
